William Smith's Wedding Presents-Sales Squire Somewhat "slack"—A Diamond Out-fit for a Bride and a Trip to Frison by the Bridegreem.

On the 17th of February last a tall, gentlemanly coking person with massive black whiskers called into Tiffany & Co.'s store. Union aquare, and stated to Newton R. Squire, one of the salesmen, that he was about to be married to a wealthy widow in this pity and desired to ornament himself with some of their jeweiry. He stated his name was James B. Smith, of the firm of Jewett, Smith & Allen, Kansas Dity, Mo., and selected one pair of diamond earrings valued at $330, a diamond cluster ring valued at $20150, a diamond cross valued at $275, a gold waten valued at $9050. After making his selection he stated he was somewhat short of ready funds and desired to give them a thirty days' graft on the German Savings Bank of Kansas City, referring them to M. E. Cook & Co., of 67 New street, as to his responsibility. A messenger was despatched to the latter piace, and returned with the miormation that James B. Smith, of the firm of Jewett, Smith & Co., Kansas City, was responsible for $1,000. Upon this information the goods were delivered to Smith and the draft accepted in payment. The draft was sent to the bank, and returned by the pashier to Tifany & Co., with the information that no such person was known to the bank officials and had no account with them. Detective Hockwell, detailed at the store, was given the case, and yesterday morning succeeded in arrosting Smith at his boarding house, No. 29 West Fourth atreet, he still having the greater portion of the property in his possession.

Upon oeing arraigned before Justice Shandley, at Jofferson Market, vesterday atternoon, he gave his not at present a memoer of the firm, but expected to be. He also claimed that the draft was good and should have been honored by the bank officials. He was committed for examination in default of ball. king person with massive black whiskers called Tiffany & Co.'s store, Union square, and stated

ANOTHER CHECK TRANSACTION.

A Lame Shoemaker Alters a Check and Obtains $4,000 On It. On the 15th of January last Peter Leeburgh, a lame check for $24 62, on the Security bank, from Mr. H. J. Dipperly, of 250 Canal street. By some chemical process Leeburgh managed to erase the original amount the check was drawn for and alled it up for $4,222 76, and a few days subsequently called upon the firm of Duff & Tincken, No. 15 wall street, and informed amount. The firm sent the check to the bank on which it was drawn and had it certified.

Thinking the check was all right they gave Leeburgh a gold check on the Bank of New York for the amount, which, upon being presented to the latter bank, was paid. The check, upon being returned to Dipperly, was discovered to have been altered from the original amount.

Chief Irving was appealed to, and detailed detectives Kearns and Kelso to find the guilty party. After a long and tedious search they succeeded in the line in at his boarding house, No. 57 Stanton street, on Thursday evening. He was arraigned before Justice Shandley at Jefferson Market, yesterday afternoon, and, admitting the charge, was held for examination. emaker of fine personal appearance, obtained a
